How are we financed?

The annual BSA registration fee of $15 funds the National Council, none of it is retained by the council.

The Blue Mountain Council is funded through four main sources: About 50% comes from contributions (Friends of Scouting) from individuals, Scouting alumni, and Scout families; About 20% comes from the United Way; about 14% comes from Trading Post sales and activities; and the rest comes from Popcorn Sales, special events, and bequests. These funds are used to make Scouting affordable for all and to provide all of the background work and support that makes Scouting possible for more youth.

Units are financed through member dues and fundraisers such as the annual popcorn sale.
